FATHER WITNESSES GENOCIDAL PLAN IN HOSPITAL THAT KILLED HIS DAUGHTER

FREEDOM, WISCONSIN, April 19, 2022 — Scott Schara, father of Grace Schara – a 19-year-old girl with Down Syndrome, says he witnessed a genocidal plan unfold at St. Elizabeth's Hospital (Ascension) in Appleton, Wis., where his daughter was killed after being given three powerful contraindicated drugs and having Dr. Gavin Shokar, MD, submit his own do-not-resuscitate (DNR) order on her, without family consent or knowledge.

According to Merriam-Webster's Dictionary, genocide is "the deliberate and systematic destruction of a racial, political, or cultural group." Special-needs-people, such as Grace, are a group viewed as burdensome to society both in care needed, and financial responsibility for the state. Down Syndrome babies are aborted 67 percent of the time in the US, while in Denmark 98 percent are killed. This is a systemic destruction of a group of people, under the guise of medical care.

A Down Syndrome patient at St. Elizabeth's hospital is not treated the same as other patients, proven by the fact Grace was strapped down to her bed simply for needing to use the restroom. Schara believes Grace was targeted due to her condition, while fully-functioning adults would not have been restrained.

"We have 22 doctor reports from Grace's week-long stay in the hospital, and it was mentioned in those reports 36 times that Grace had Down Syndrome. They strapped her to a bed because she had to use the bathroom. They sedated her for no reason and without our knowledge," Schara said. "The vast majority of doctors and nurses treated her very disrespectfully and with total disregard. Grace was high-functioning and a calm person by nature. Were these measures taken out of convenience for hospital staff or part of a larger agenda? I think it's clear."

Patients entering hospitals are not provided informed consent. They are given a stack of papers to sign upon admission, which essentially waives all their rights, while agreeing to dangerous protocols the hospital follows. They are not told that Remdesivir has a 75 percent death rate if more than two doses are given, according to America's Frontline Nurses; or that nearly 27,000 deaths have occurred after a COVID-19 vaccine is given (<https://openvaers.com/covid-data>); or that you're declaring yourself DNR simply by signing in (<https://www.frontiersin.org/articles/10.3389/fpubh.2021.560405/full>). It appears there is a shift in hospital policy from saving lives to maximizing financial incentives for each death, thereby increasing deaths – especially in regards to COVID-19 patients.

"The population reduction is happening right in front of our eyes, with COVID-19 as the cover. We are being poisoned with the jab, the boosters, and the treatment protocols, and being lied to in a coordinated effort by our government and the media. Our government has motivated our medical system to do the dirty work, through financial incentives – doctors and nurses have become serial killers,” Schara said.

Annually, roughly one billion dollars goes into the Food and Drug Administration’s (FDA) budget from organizations the FDA regulates, such as pharmaceutical companies, vaccine companies and food companies. Such arrangements can result in approvals that are rife with conflicts of interest and issues of integrity, and even corruption. When the FDA’s funding is dependent upon the organizations they regulate, the FDA will work hand-in-glove to assure those organizations get approval for drugs, such as Remdesivir; and vaccines, such as the COVID-19 vaccines (which are only approved under emergency use authorization, except for Pfizer/BioNTech’s Comirnaty, which is not available anywhere in the US). This is an example of the fox guarding the henhouse.

Schara views today’s atrocities as an opportunity for people to realize that while life is important, one’s soul is far more important because eternity is at stake. “Turn to God and pray for a heart to pursue truth. He will lead you to the only one, His son Jesus, who will never lead you astray and is the only source of truth,” he said.

Many hospitals are committed to following deadly treatment protocols encouraged by governmental agencies, and receive financial benefits and incentives for doing so. Schara’s case highlights many abuses, along with the dangers of financial influence. For more information about Grace’s death, please visit www.ouramazinggrace.net.
